

Dear Hiring Team at Morgan Stanley,

I am excited to apply for the Wealth Management position at Morgan Stanley. As a student at NYU pursuing studies in economics and computer science, coupled with my hands-on experience in investment analysis, private equity, and client-focused research, I am eager to bring my analytical skills and passion for financial markets to your esteemed team.

My involvement with the Investment Analysis Group, our long-only value investing fund, and the Eon Fund, a student-run quantitative hedge fund, has sharpened my skills in fundamental analysis, quantitative research, equity valuation, and financial modeling, providing me with a comprehensive understanding of diverse investment strategies and market dynamics. Additionally, during my private equity internship at Grant Park Holdings, I engaged directly with family offices and high-net-worth individuals, honing my abilities in market research, investor communication, deal evaluation, due diligence processes, and investment strategy formulation.

My background uniquely combines analytical rigor from computer science coursework and financial acumen from diverse investment-focused experiences, enabling me to contribute meaningfully to Morgan Stanley's commitment to exceptional client service and sophisticated wealth management solutions.

Thank you very much for your consideration.

Sincerely,

Mukund Sundar

ms14594@nyu.edu

New York University, Courant Institute of Mathematical Sciences